

WELCOME TO IWS

At the origin of the IWS project he wanted to ensure that drinking water at home was pure and safe. Over time he sought innovative solutions through technicians and doctors that could lead to a solution at home level.

An ambitious project

After years of studies and design, IWS has managed to create a unique device based on quantum physics that has changed the way we experience water and its potential.

- In the first section it transforms calcium carbonate into aragonite, eliminating encrustations and preventing the formation of kidney stones.
- In the second section it erases the memories acquired during the long flow in the lands it passes through and restores the original memory of the water.
(02 - See Structured-Water-A-New-Vision)
- In the third section the water in the pipeline is brought to a higher energy level than that of normally filtered water.

System Features

Advanced Filtration :

It uses a combination of filters to remove impurities and contaminants.

Ease of Use:

Designed to be easily usable by anyone, without the need for technical skills.

Energizing water:

The water acquires vitality and becomes light and pleasant to the palate.

The Transformation: From Calcium Carbonate to Aragonite

A unique process
IWS transforms calcium carbonate
(limestone) into aragonite.

By reducing the formation of limescale in water systems it promotes the health of the urinary system and eliminates the problem of kidney stones. From the point of view of acid-base balance it is an energized water, rich in oxygen, the best possible "base" for the elimination of acid waste.

The Benefits of IWS

Improved Flavor

IWS enhances the flavours of foods, making them tastier and more appetising, offering your guests an impeccable culinary experience.

Plant Protection

Aragonite reduces scale formation in water systems, ensuring consistent, clean water and extending the life of equipment.

No to compromises

IWS is designed to ensure maximum quality and durability over time, contributing to environmental sustainability.

The Global Impact

The IWS project has not only improved the quality of life of the families that use it, but has also stimulated greater awareness of the importance of clean water. The diffusion of the system has contributed to raising awareness among the national public opinion on the problems related to water pollution and on the urgency of sustainable solutions.

Production Expansion:

The project attracted the interest of many people who were interested in our device and pushed the IWS designers to create it on a large scale.

Collaborations:

Today we collaborate with builders and architects all over the world developing projects for hotels, palaces, residences, restaurants, water parks, which use our unique water system in the world.

Future of the Project

Looking to the future, the IWS project aims to extend the opportunity of access to the IWS water system around the world by offering communities the possibility of autonomously managing their own water resources.

In conclusion

The IWS project represents an example of how innovation can arise from necessity and how a simple solution can have a significant impact on people's quality of life.

An Energetic and Living Water

IWS enhances essential minerals, helping to improve long-term health and well-being, providing clean, odorless water while preventing side effects and contraindications.

IWS represents a step towards a more sustainable and environmentally friendly future, ensuring high quality water for all.

DESIGNED TO LAST FOREVER

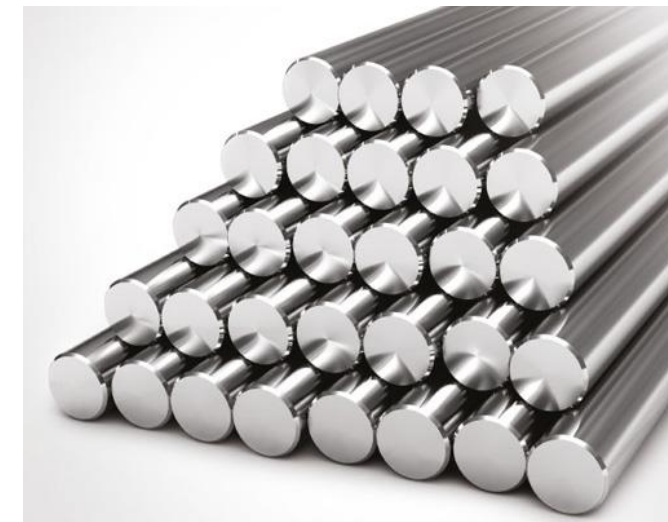

HOW IT IS MADE: IWS IS A REVOLUTIONARY PROJECT

It is built with 3 alloys: Steel - Brass - Copper
It has no plastic parts, it is not connected to power sources, it does not contain elements that modify water.

We have created a unique product in the world that through its hydraulic function revitalizes water making it pure and light like a high mountain spring.

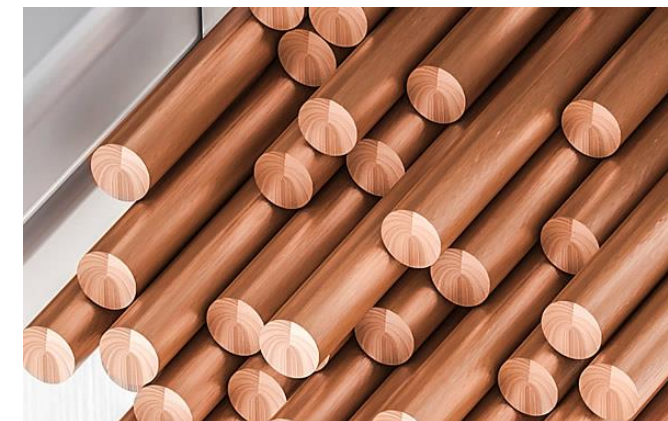

OUR MISSION:
MAKE IT INDESTRUCTIBLE AND
GUARANTEE IT FOR LIFE

DEVICES ARE INSTALLED BASED ON
ANNUAL WATER CONSUMPTION.

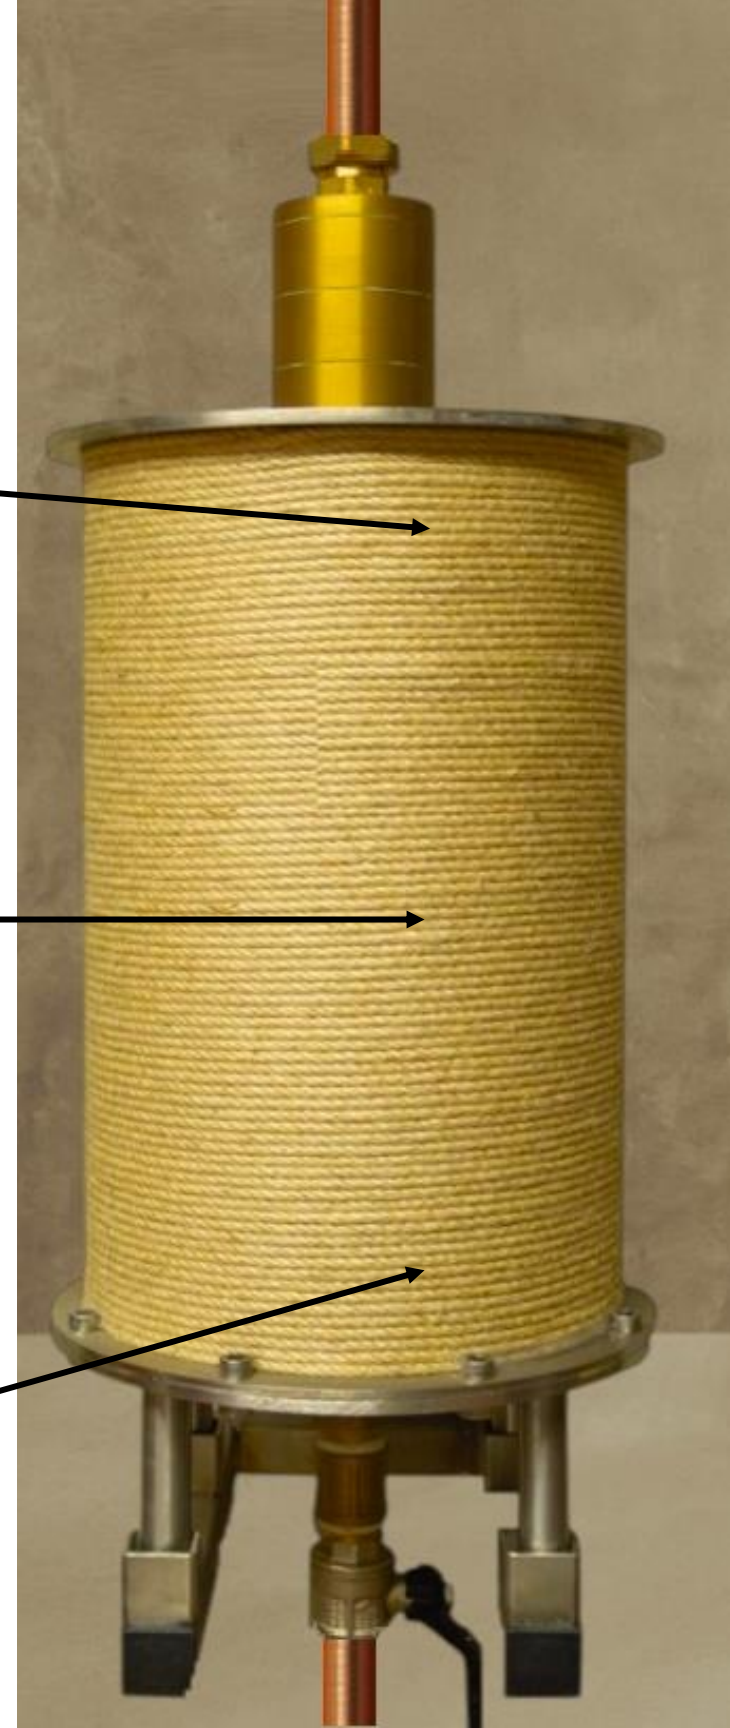

IWS AND ITS FUNCTIONS:

- In the first section it transforms calcium carbonate into aragonite eliminating encrustations and also prevents the formation of kidney stones.

- In the second section it erases from the mains water the memories acquired during the long flow in the crossing terrains and restores the original memory of the water.

- In the third section the mains water is brought to a higher energy level than that of normally filtered water.
